THE NEW ORTHODOXY

By EDWARD SCRIBNER AMES

Associate Professor of Philosophy
The University of Chicago

The war marks the beginning of a new epoch in Christianity. Religion is gaining in reality and sanity and also in vision and incentive. The old orthodoxy sought correctness of opinion through tradition and authority. The new orthodoxy rests upon deeper grounds. Its foundations are in the nature of man; not in his superstition or his credulity but in his heroism, his kindliness, and his imagination. The concerns of religion in our day are bound up with science and art and social idealism. This book is a popular, constructive interpretation of man's religious life in the light of the learning of scholars and in the presence of a new generation of spiritual heroes.

A Guide to the Study of the Christian Religion

Edited by GERALD B. SMITH

A symposium covering the field of modern religious teaching

The past quarter of a century has seen remarkable growth in theological knowledge and an unusual change in the points of view. Biblical and theological scholars have worked out new methods of studying old subjects which have led to surprisingly fruitful results. The editor of the present volume has compiled a comprehensive survey of this field by twelve well-known scholars.

"One can find here as nowhere else within the same compass an intelligent and authoritative summary of theological thinking as it exists today among those who by common consent are the recognized leaders in theological learning."—Northwestern Christian Advocate.

Handbooks of Ethics and Religion

for College Classes and Adult Study-Groups

The Spread of Christianity in the Modern World, by EDWARD CALDWELL MOORE. $2.25, postpaid $2.40.
A survey of the history of missions since the beginning of the modern era. Depicts the missionary movement against the background of general history.

How the Bible Grew, by FRANK G. LEWIS. $1.50, postpaid $1.65.
The first single work to record the growth of the Bible from its beginning up to the present time.

The Life of Paul, by BENJAMIN W. ROBINSON. $1.75, postpaid $1.90.
This narrative moves rapidly through the apostle's successive difficult conflicts and powerful triumphs and furnishes a reliable guide to a study of Paul's career.

The Religions of the World, by GEORGE A. BARTON. $2.25, postpaid $2.40.
The author gives a keen and sympathetic interpretation of all the great religions of the world, and a summary of the chief facts regarding their origin and history. Popular presentation and scholarly accuracy combined.

The Psychology of Religion, by GEORGE A. COE. $2.25, postpaid $2.40.
There are few books which are adapted for use as college texts and are at the same time interesting reading for those outside of scholastic circles. But this book is one of that few.

The Story of the New Testament, by EDGAR JOHNSON GOODSPEED. $1.50, postpaid $1.65.
A clear exposition of the development of the New Testament based upon the definite thesis that "Christianity did not spring from the New Testament but the New Testament from Christianity."

The Origin and Growth of the Hebrew Religion, by HENRY T. FOWLER. $1.50, postpaid $1.60.
A remarkable exposition of religious phenomena from a fresh psychological standpoint, combining both structural and functional methods of approach.
